Chef brings a taste of China to Regent's Park

A RENOWNED Chinese chef came to the London Business School in Regent's Park last week to mark the beginning of the Chinese Year of the Pig.

Chef Dennis Liu prepared two of his signature dishes, Gong Bao Chicken and Ma Po Tofu for the students.

He left behind his job as the manager of the five-star Beijing International Hotel to tour the UK and provide an authentic taste of the Orient.

Chef Liu is visiting as part of the global chef exchange programme run by his employers Sodexho, a food and facilities management services provider.

The programme allows chefs from different countries to share authentic international cuisine and traditional cooking techniques with clients, customers, staff, and on-site culinary teams.
